

LYNDHURST TURKEY FAIR

SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 16TH

Lyndhurst had its beginnings as the village of Furnace Falls in the 1800's after a vein of iron ore was discovered in the area. An iron works soon followed. That, along with various mills built to take advantage of the waterways, drove the local economy for the next hundred years. In 1846, the village was renamed honouring Lord Lyndhurst, a British Lawyer and statesman.

The old stone bridge, completed in 1857, is the oldest in Ontario. Built to replace an old wooden one, it was completed at a cost of $1,500 and constructed with hammers, chisels, compass and horse power. It is a fine example of masonry three arch construction and typifies the roman style of the builder's native Scotland.

Every year in September, Lyndhurst is the home of the newly revamped Turkey Fair. In the past, raising fowl was an extra source of income for many local farmers. With the advent of railroads came quick and easy shipping to Montreal, Toronto and points in between. To entice customers, local vendors created a marketing scheme - by advertising a "turkey fair" many buyers were lured to Lyndhurst every autumn. Farmers would dress their turkeys and other birds, and take them to Main Street for sale. The original Turkey Fairs ended in the 1940's.
